INTRODUCTION

This booklet has been prepared for the use of those providing direct supervision of clients. It is also for the use of the Parole Board, judges, and attorneys as a guide in recommending an appropriate client management strategy. The Department is committed to preparing clients to live civil, sober and productive lives. The goal is to ensure an opportunity for positive personal progress within the least restrictive environment. By outlining specific client management strategies, eligibility criteria and the referral process where applicable, it is our hope a client's needs will be more adequately assessed and met.

Change is constant in the area of client management strategies. This booklet is provided as a guide and is accurate to the date of revision. Applicable policy and procedure should be referred to for further information and clarification.

Revisions of this booklet will be made available as needed and can be accessed on the Missouri Department of Corrections website: www.doc.mo.gov. If you have any questions, please contact your local Probation and Parole Office.

I. LEVELS OF SUPERVISION:

When the Court orders a client to be supervised by the Division of Probation and Parole or the Parole Board releases a client on Parole or Conditional Release, an Initial Assessment is conducted. The Initial Assessment Phase lasts 60 days. During this period, the client is assessed for criminogenic needs, related factors and receives information relative to the expectations of supervision. Each case assigned for supervision is managed at one of four levels. These levels include Low, Moderate, High and Very High. The supervising Probation and Parole Officer (PPO) continually assesses the risk and needs of the client to determine the appropriate level of supervision. Through on-going assessment, the PPO ensures problem areas are addressed and the client progresses through the system without undue risk to the community. For probationers, terms of probation range from a minimum of six months to a maximum of five years. There are a full range of community resources utilized to address the needs of clients.

All PPO initiated supervision contacts are to be purpose driven and conducted on a schedule that enhances the likelihood of the successful completion of required activities, with minimal negative impact on the client's existing pro-social activities. Contacts will be dictated by the case plan and in some cases may exceed minimum contact requirements.

SUPERVISION STRATEGIES:

There are a variety of supervision strategies within the Department of Corrections for clients under the Court or Parole Board's jurisdiction. Based on local practice and/or availability, the Court and Parole Board should consider the level of risk/need the client presents, the type of strategy described and the eligibility criteria.

1. Both male and female clients.
2. Clients must be sentenced pursuant to RSMo 217.362 with a minimum term of four years in the Department of Corrections. The sentence should not be in direct conflict with any other sentence provisions that cannot be resolved with the Court.
3. Clients must be assessed as substance dependent and/or having a history of serious substance use problems. This must be documented and substantiated by staff from Probation and Parole or by a licensed professional in the field of chemical dependency.
4. Client must be a chronic (at least three FELONY findings of guilt) non-violent offender as defined in RSMo 217.010; with no past or current dangerous felonies as defined in RSMo 556.061.

- Felonies can be a combination of prior or present offenses including SIS or SES probation. Felonies must have separate cause numbers or have separate offense dates.
 - Any plea of guilt or a guilty verdict is a “finding” of guilt.
5. Clients convicted of offenses for which there are statutory prohibitions that do not allow the Court to grant probation, or any offenses where a prohibition on parole exists are excluded.
 6. The PPO books the client to COMPLETE treatment to coincide with the 24th month of incarceration, as appellate courts have ruled the client may not be placed in the program longer than the actual program length, which the department has defined as 12 months.
 7. Clients with serious physical or mental health conditions which cannot be reasonably accommodated or which would prevent them from benefiting from the program may be excluded.

After analysis, DOC Legal has recommended that the Department calculate multiple sentences for long term treatment concurrently as opposed to separately for each sentence. Prior to 2016, the Department allowed a client already under sentence pursuant to 217.362 RSMo and attending treatment, who then received additional sentences for LTC, to serve the treatment portions of the sentences concurrently. In 2016, a separate legal analysis held that the statute designated the program length as “at least twelve and no more than twenty-four months, as well as a term of incarceration.” This interpretation held that each sentence required a minimum incarceration period of twelve months, and thus, the “time of incarceration” began anew as additional sentences were received.

Based on legal review, the Department will revert to the previous interpretation of Section 217.362 and allow clients with multiple LTC sentences imposed at different times to enter into and participate in one “program,” rather than having to remain in programming beyond completion merely to satisfy the “at least twelve month” requirement on subsequent sequences. Following successful program completion, clients are eligible for probation release on all applicable LTC sentences. Reverting to the prior interpretation will promote better use of department resources while satisfying the rehabilitative intent of the statute.

Referral:

Enter into MOCIS Programs utilizing Classes. The client will be assigned to the program with a projected entry date. The client should be delivered to the Reception Center no more than eight weeks prior to the projected entry date.

M. OFFENDERS OFFERING ALTERNATIVES (OOA)

The Offenders Offering Alternatives program scheduling and availability differ by area. OOA activities are organized and supervised by the Institutional Activities Coordinators (IAC) Office, Institutional Parole Staff, and Field Probation and Parole Staff. Eligibility:

1. Clients placed on probation, with a special condition for this program under the provisions of RSMo 217.785. If a client is currently on probation, the Court may send the client to Phase II of this program under the provisions of RSMo 217.785, while continuing the client on probation. SIS and SES probations are eligible.
2. First time offenders (Plea or finding of guilt for first felony offense), who have pled guilty or been found guilty of a violation of the provisions of RSMo 579 or previous chapter 195 (drug offenses) are eligible.

3. A client may have multiple offenses and still be eligible if the offenses were adjudicated at the same time.
4. First time offenders (Plea or finding of guilt for first felony offense), whose abuse of a controlled substance was a precipitating or contributing factor in the commission of the offense are eligible.
5. Both male and female probationers.
6. Probationers must have an active substance use problem.

9. Probationers with serious physical or mental health conditions which cannot be reasonably accommodated or which would prevent them from benefiting from the program may be excluded.
10. Probationers will be admitted to Phase II of the program if they have failed to successfully complete Phase I of the program.

There have been instances in which a Court has ordered placement into the institutional phase of PCT prior to failure to complete the non-institutional, or community phase of the program, as outlined in the portion of the statute below:

A probationer shall be eligible for assignment to the institutional phase of the post-conviction drug treatment program if he has failed to complete successfully the non-institutional phase of the program. If space is available, the sentencing court may assign the offender to the institutional phase of the program as a special condition of probation, without the necessity of formal revocation of probation.

The Department will not consider clients eligible for placement into the institutional phase of PCT prior to having attempted and/or failed the community phase. For example, a client who is sentenced pursuant to 217.785, and recommended for placement in the institutional phase at initial sentencing, and who has not been supervised on probation on the current sentence, will not be eligible for placement. If a client arrives at a DAI facility with such an order, Records Office staff should contact the institutional parole office if it is unable to be determined whether or not the community phase has been attempted. If found ineligible, institutional parole staff shall notify the Court as outlined in D5-4.23, Missouri Post-Conviction Drug Treatment Program and P6-4.9 Court Report Investigations for Post-Conviction Treatment and Court Ordered Detention Sanction.

Field referrals should note that the client has attempted/failed the community phase when booking placement in MOCIS whenever possible.

Referral:

For (120-day) Court cases, the client should reach the reception center no more than 36 days and not less than 15 days prior to the entry date.

NOTE: If the client reaches the institution outside these parameters they may be excluded from participation in the program.
